SUMMER 2022: EDITORIAL INTERNSHIPS

NonDoc.com is looking to hire two college students for our summer internship program. The internships are paid and will involve reporting news stories, using online publishing systems and creating social media messages for various purposes. The internships will begin in May and run through the end of August. The exact start and end dates can be flexible.

Applicants must submit a cover letter, resumé and two samples of journalism work to editorial@nondoc.com by 11:59 pm on Monday, Jan. 3, 2022.

Launched in 2015, NonDoc.com is a nonprofit journalism website based in Oklahoma City. We are reader-funded community journalism that provides fair context to our readers to encourage civic involvement. NonDoc has received SPJ's "Best Website" award three times in the last four years.

In partnership with Inasmuch Foundation, our summer interns will also participate in the Inasmuch Community Fellowship lunches and activities.

Qualified applicants will learn skills related to writing, editing, social media distribution of journalism content and operating WordPress as well as CoSchedule. Questions can be sent to editorial@nondoc.com.
